MACMILLAN

Anna Cole

Joe came scuffling up the walk and flopped down beside Billy. He was a small boy, with dark hair and a long nose and big brown eyes.

"What's going on?"

"Come on," said Alan to Billy. "Tom can be your second and Joe'll be mine, just like in a duel. You think it's so easy—here's your chance to make fifty bucks."

Billy dangled a leaf in front of the cat, but the cat just rubbed against his knee, purring.

"What kind of worms?"

"Regular worms."

"Not those big green ones that get on the tomatoes. I won't eat those. And I won't eat them all at once. It might make me sick. One worm a day for fifteen days."

"And he can eat them any way he wants," said Tom. "Boiled, stewed, fried, fricasseed."

"Yeah, but we provide the worms," said Joe. "And there have to be witnesses present when he eats them; either me or Alan or somebody we can trust. Not just you and Billy."

"Okay?" Alan said to Billy.

Billy scratched the cat's ears. Fifty dollars. That was a lot of money. How bad could a worm taste? He'd eaten fried liver, salmon loaf, mushrooms, tongue, pig's feet. Other kids' parents were always nagging them to eat, eat; his had begun to worry about how much he ate. Not that he was fat. He just hadn't worked off all his winter blubber yet.

He slid his hand into his shirt and furtively squeezed the side of his stomach. Worms were just dirt; dirt wasn't fattening.

If he won fifty dollars, he could buy that minibike George Cunningham's brother had promised to sell him in September before he went away to college. Heck, he could gag anything down for fifty dollars, couldn't he?

He looked up. "I can use ketchup or mustard or anything like that? As much as I want?"

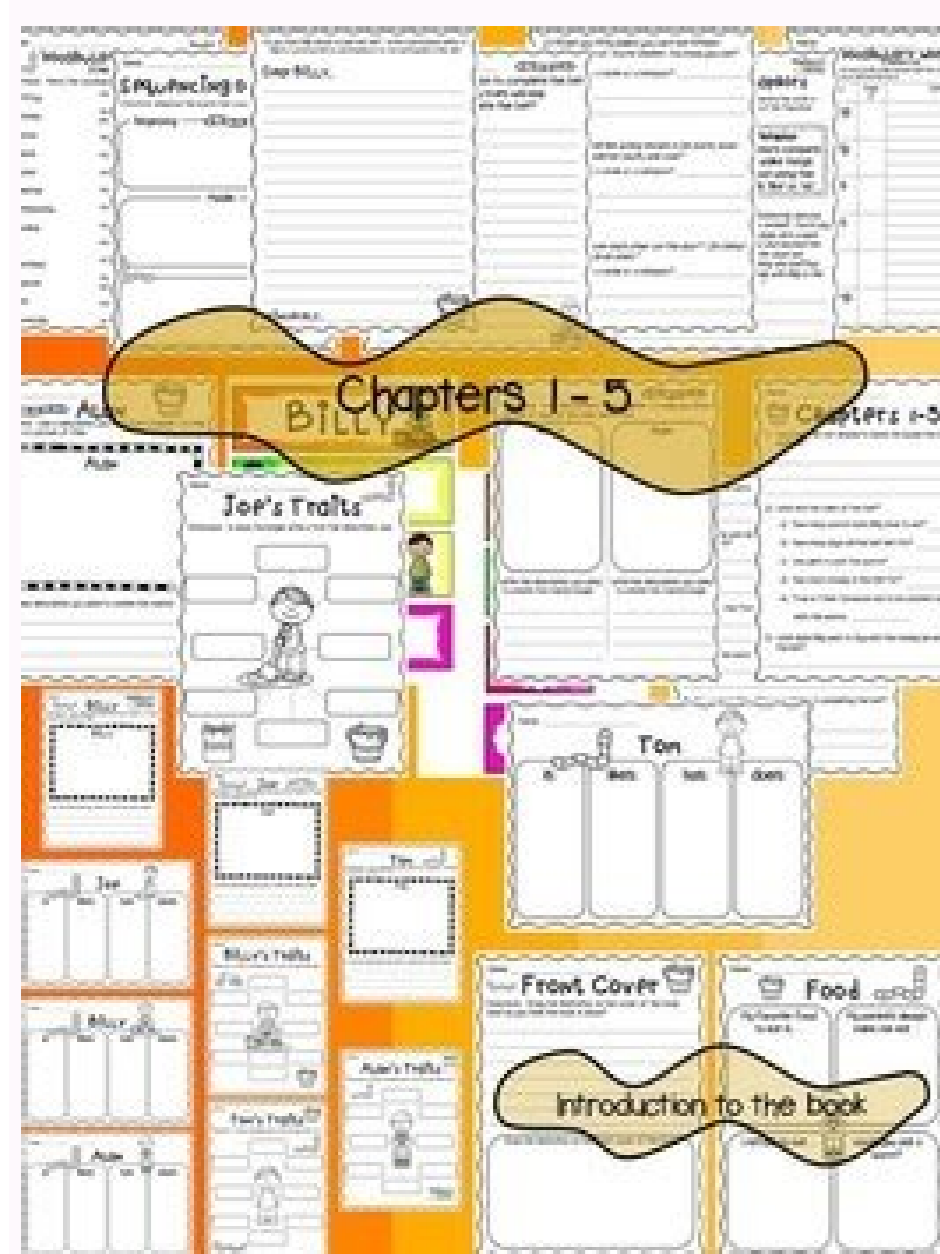

Alan nodded. "Okay?"

Billy stood up.

"Okay."

Do worms eat flesh. Do worms eat fruit. Do worms eat anything.

He lives in Poughkeepsie, NY. Sanders gives an extra kick and vitality to this already animated yarn. A worm a day for fifteen days. "And he can eat them the way he wants," said Tom. Worms are just dirt. "Yes, but they bleed." "Then you would have to cook them. Thomas Rockwell is the author of several books for young readers. He ate fried liver, salmon bread, mushrooms, tongue, pork feet. He received the Mark Twain award, the California Young Youth Medal and the Sequoyah Award for How to Eat Fried Worms. Tom was sitting on his steps from the balcony, jumping a tennis ball. "The old Tator caught Joe while we were climbing up the fence, so we all had to come back, and he made us stack the peaches in his Kitchen table, and then he called our mothers. Joe's mother hasn't let him out yet. "Where were you? "Tom stopped jumping the tennis ball. And I bought it with all my money that I won grass cut, so I can do whatever I want with it. The parents of other children always bothered them to eat, eat; he began to worry about how much he ate. B.L.W. (C) Audiofile, Portland, Maine - This text refers to an unprinted or unavailable edition of this title. Sanders derives an obvious pleasure of reading (and singing) loudly the hilarious rhymes and invented children's songs from the mind of the author of the book, Thomas Rockwell. "Okay?" Billy got up. "Okay." -This text refers to an unprinted or unavailable edition of this title. You can make me sick. "Why not? That was a lot of money. Tom! Where were you last night?" "Yes, you lost." Alan and Billy went up front. DACE, tuna, spider, trout, hope you hear the minister scream. "How to eat fried worms is a horrible gastronomic treatment that will dazzle young listeners." If the salmon casserole makes me sick, think about what fifteen worms would do. "Joe came. "of the walk and fell next to Billy. Billy bought the minibike he dreamed of. Billy through his gastronomic ordinance, which turns and turns to each new day, leaving the result of the bet continuously in dā. Colorful, original writing in a very necessary census vein. "-Booklist." Are you okay? "Billy got up." Ok. " He was a tall, thin boy who took the problems very much to the river. "My mother and kept me inside. " "For what?" "I didn't eat my dinner." Alan sat at the step below Tom and began chewing his thumbnail. " What's it?" "Salmon Casserole." Billy fell on the grass, chunky, snub-nosed, Freckled. "Salā E o Cadaçarola is not so so." "Would she do not let you eat two bites?" Asked Alan. The worms are supplied by your opponent, whose motto is "the biggest and judge, the better!" In the innio the problem of Billy is if he can or not swallow the worm placed before it, even with a choice of peanut butter spots for roban. I will not eat that. I know, because last week I pou five dome that my grandmother gave me to my birthday. "" Your motto would not let you take it. "She would do if I lost the bet. Colorful, original written in a very necessary comic vein. "- Book Ruller. In addition, Alan knows that Billy can not resist a bet, No matter what revolting. What is mud? " Sometimes my mothers say, well, well, if I eat two bites." "I didn't eat one. "This is estimated," said Billy. Billy.
